

Scientific basis for the Florida Wildlife Corridor, courtesy of the Florida Ecological Greenways Network and the Conservation Trust for Florida.

An example of science supporting the Florida Wildlife Corridor vision, Black Bear M34 recorded a 500 mile dispersal throughout central Florida in 2010 while wearing a GPS collar provided by University of Kentucky biologists working from Archbold Biological Station.

